LET'S LEARN TOGETHER
with The Red Deporte

Primary school is free in Zambia.
After 7th grade the parents have to pay for the materials themselves.
Many parents can't effort to pay
this for their children.

Let's meet Esnat, a Zambian girl, who's just about to finish primary school.

Hello,
you two!

Want to hangout
at the market after school?

Oh! I'd love to!
But we're going that new studygroup.

You want to joins us?

Me? Esnat?
Going to study
AFTER school?
I don't know...

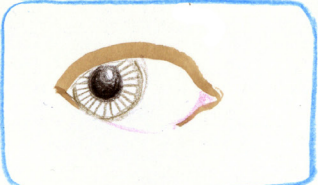

We will play ball too!

Come on!
Its just over at our schoolyard!

Hmm,
I really don't like math!

But I'd love to play with them.

Okay!
I'm in!

Lydia from across the street just got a job in Lusaka

Did you hear?

Oh wow! Makes sense though.

Yeah, I need to get better marks, too.

See you later?

Sure, I'll be there!

Hi Mom!

Hi Esnat

I've got to eat fast, so I can make it to the study group on good time!

That makes me very proud, you'll see hard work pays always off! By the way, who's organising it?

The Red Deporte!

Oh and could you take Francis with you? That would be great.

I guess, why not...

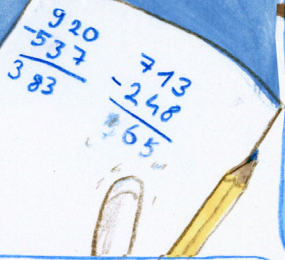

Then play football:

Yeah, finally!

This is so hard ...

HERE"

"HAHAHA:"

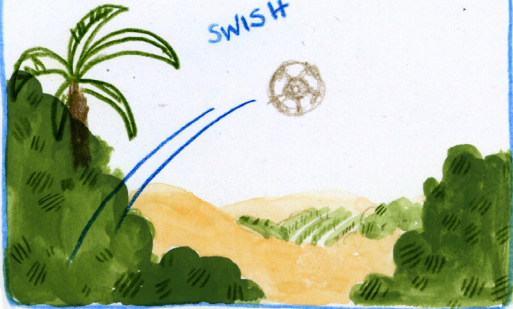

"HERE

How can anyone remember these?

SWISH

$$\begin{aligned}x - 9 &= -17 \\ +9 &= +9 \\ x &= -8\end{aligned}$$

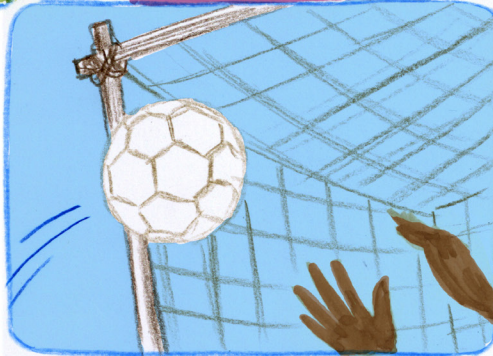

HELP!

$$\begin{aligned}x - 9 &= -17 \\ -8 - 9 &= -17 \\ -17 &= -17\end{aligned}$$

HELP!

Oh wow!
I know that!

That was a pretty easy one!

The Red Deporte volunteers
try to involve children and youth in educative programs through the use of sport events.
They motivate them to take actively part In their future.
